FIRST TERM EXAMINATION 2082

Class: XI 'Science'

Time: 3 hrs.

Subject: English [0031]

F.M.: 75

P.M.: 30

Candidates are required to give their answer in their own words as far as practicable. The figure in the margin indicated full marks.

attempt all the questions.

1. Read the following text and do the activities that follow.

Jay Tee, 30, has been a drug addict since he was a teenager. He has tried to kick the habit many times; going in and out of rehabilitation centers. He managed to stay clean for a month before suffering a relapse. There are many drug addicts like Jay Tee. Why are they into it in the first place? It doesn't matter if you are white or black or Asian or Latin, every race has their share of drug abuse problems.

Some people say that it is due to the perception of drugs being "bad and illegal" and therefore something so irresistible that you just have to try it. Somehow, teenagers are more curious to discover the "forbidden fruit". Some manage to kick the habit early but there are many others who are trapped.

For many teenagers, drug abuse is a mere escape. They use drugs to get out of their misery, pain, confusion and loneliness. Some teenage drug addicts grow up without guidance from their parents, and so they resort to drugs. Some are physically or mentally abused and drugs become the only thing that they are able to count on. Many succumb to drug addiction because of the need to feel like they belong. They try drugs to please their friends or to be part of a group. Many teenage drug abusers are also low achievers in schools and have low self-esteem.

There are also teenagers who claim that they were first exposed to different kinds of drugs at parties and discos. These drugs were distributed freely the first few times and they kept coming back for more. As a result, many of them became addicted even before they knew it. In certain cases, these teenagers might resort to committing crimes to support their expensive habit.

One effective tool in the fight against teen drug abuse is communication. Troubled teens need some form of outlet from the problems or depression they are facing. Parents should take time out from their busy schedules to spend time with their children and listen to their problems. Communication, however, should go beyond words. Parents should show their children that they really care. Adequate parental supervision has also been found to be a deterrent to drug use in youth. Parents should know who their children's friends are and what is going on in their social lives. School counselors should also play an active role in providing information on drug abuse and also provide emotional support.

One common belief is that drug abusers should be able to stop taking drugs if only they are willing to change their behavior. However, drug addiction is a disease that affects the brain and because of that, stopping drug abuse is not simply a matter of willpower. Drug abuse can affect a person's self-control and ability to make sound decisions, and at the same time send intense impulses to take drugs. Through scientific advances, we now know that the abuse of drugs leads to changes in the structure and function of the brain and at the same time, we also know that drug addiction can be successfully treated to help people get over their addiction and resume productive lives.

At the end of the day, the best way to prevent drug addiction is by educating teenagers about it. The more they learn about the bad effects, the less their excuses to take it. This may even dissuade them from using it.

Your Photo Perfect camera is equipped with an 80x digital zoom wide angle lens with image stabilizer. The camera is also fitted with our patented Airwalker JJTM technology enabling you to cushion zoom. Avoid touching the lens and always clean with a cotton cloth.

Self-timer

With our self-timer technology, you can appear in your own photograph! The camera's shutter can be delayed by 5 to 10 seconds once the shutter button has been set. Before activating the self-timer make sure the camera is placed on a flat surface. The yellow border in the view finder determines what will appear in your picture.

Image quality and size

Images are stored in your camera's memory stick in a compressed format, which allows you to store more photographs. Due to compression, the preview of the images on the camera's display screen may reveal a loss of detail. When the images are printed or transferred to other high-resolution viewing devices (such as a computer), full resolution will be displayed.

Setting the right image size is important to get a perfect printout of your photographs. You can choose from manual and auto settings. The Photo Perfect user-friendly image setting button allows you to select any of the three size setting options. For an actual printout of a 4 x 6 inch photo, set the image button to 'A' on the dial. For a printout of a 7 x 9 inch photo, set the button to 'B' and for a printout of a 10 x 12 inch photo, turn the dial to 'C'. Note: A larger image size setting will require more memory.
